Classroom rule	Why this rule is important	How the rule is enforced	consequences if broken
Students are not supposed to converse when a teacher is in front of them teaching.	So that they can concentrate and listen carefully to what the teacher is saying.	Students who are friends are not paired to sit together in order not to converse.	A student is punished to fill all the pages in an exercise with the statement "I would not talk in class again"

TOPIC 10.6: Development of professional teaching Portfolio

Day of visit Wednesday

Date of visit 4th February 2026.

Activity 10.6.1

SRJ Task: Discussion and review of personal teaching philosophy with tutors, mentors and STS partner

Record your reviewed personal teaching philosophy statement taking a clue from the discussions you have had with your STS partner and mentor on beliefs and values in teaching and learning.

My teaching Philosophy is rooted in the belief that learning is a constructive process, where students move from passive absorption to active engagement. My goal is to foster critical thinking, not just content retention and inclusivity for example i will show student a picture or a video of the topic and let them talk about what they are seeing and analyse a way to solve it this will allow me guide them as they apply the concept rather than deliver it. A successful class for me is not one whe i spoke the most but one where students has wrestled with the materials together.

Identify the similarities and differences between your Year One and reviewed personal teaching philosophy statements and give reasons for the differences.

Similarities	Differences
-Core Passion: both expressing fundational belief in student Centered learning and inklusivity -Values: fostering Critical thinking - lifelong learning: Both express a Commitment to Professional development	-Year one reviewed statement was Idealistic & Theoretical but now its realistic and Empirical (data driven). -Classrom management was Generalized but now its specific. - It was teacher centerd (what I will do). but now its student centered (what they will learn).

diversity)
