AUTOBIOGRAPHY

My name is Aidoo Afua Atta Sandy was born on 08th March, 1996 at Kumasi in the Ashanti Region of Ghana.

I started my basic education at Solid Hope Basic School, Kumasi and continued to Kumasi Anglican High School where I offered Home Economics and completed in 2014. I am currently a Level 300 student of University of Ghana offering B.Ed. Junior High School specialism, majoring in Social Studies.

I am a hardworking, respectful and God-fearing person who loves reading, teaching and helping others. Teaching has always been my passion because I believe education is the key to transforming society.

My ambition is to become a professional Social Studies teacher who will inspire Junior High School learners to become critical thinkers and responsible citizens. I also aspire to further my education to the master's level in the near future.
